Computer Help is a locally-based service operated by Colin Finnie offering advice and practical assistance with a wide range of home and business computer problems.

No more lengthy phone calls to foreign help-lines or incomprehensible computer jargon. I provide a personal service in your home or office, and I speak plain English!

If your computer has stopped working and you do not know why, call Computer Help and I will sort it out. It's like having your own "friend who knows about these things" on call. Some of the typical computer problems I come across regularly are :

The PC runs slowly or takes ages to get started

The PC stops working for no apparent reason

Virus infections

Lost files

Software not working properly

Internet refuses to connect or you have e-mail problems

If any of this sounds familiar, it's time to call Computer Help . Call me on 01981 580044. Talk over your problem with me on the phone and arrange for a visit. Our services also cover :

Advice on getting started with computers

Getting your PC to run faster

Free effective protection from Viruses and other gremlins

Data recovery after accidental deletion or equipment failure

PC upgrades – more memory or bigger hard drives

Setting up home and business networks

Wireless internet connection and broadband advice

For the more specialised computer user I can also offer particular expertise in:

Music recording software and hardware

Don't suffer in silence!
Let Computer Help sort out your PC problems.
